

UNDERSTANDING THE VALUE OF BELONGING TO A UNION

By joining together, Chicago and Midwest Regional Joint Board members have a voice in their workplace: they can negotiate with management to improve their working conditions, to improve their jobs and to make sure everyone is treated fairly.

Welcome. Welcome to collective action. Welcome to a “say”. Welcome to power in the workplace. Welcome to our union family!

We look forward to getting to know you and for you getting to know us. We know that there will be many new things to learn over the coming days and weeks, but one of the most important things you can do is get to know who your Local Union Representatives are. They will be able to assist you, guide you when you have concerns, and answer any general questions you may have. We are a Union family and we know that by looking out for each other, and standing together, we make a better workplace that works better for you.

YOUR RIGHTS TO FAIR TREATMENT

Chicago and Midwest Regional Joint Board members understand the value of belonging to a union.

Our union has more than 80,000 working people and retirees in the United States and Canada, who are working together for justice in the workplace and beyond. Together, we are building better jobs through organizing and collective bargaining. Union members have jobs that are safer, higher paying, and provide health care and pensions, paid vacations and holidays, job security, fair treatment on the job at a higher rate than their non-union counterparts.

Our membership is incredibly diverse and our members work in laundries, hotels, hospitals, distribution centers, food service, apparel, textile factories, light manufacturing and several other industries.

UNION DEMOCRACY MAKES US STRONGER

HOW TO GET INVOLVED

- * Know your contract - ask your steward and union officers to explain your benefits under the contract.
- * Insist on your rights - Let your steward and other co-workers know if you think management is acting unfairly. If a manager/supervisor asks you a question that might lead to discipline, you have a legal right to have a union steward present to help represent you.
- * Support your union - If a co-worker is being treated unfairly, back them up. Stand by your union leaders when they ask for your help.
- * Join other Union members - Members from different workplaces than yours will need your support in rallies, petition campaigns or visits to lawmakers in their offices.
- * Register to Vote - Your local union officials can tell you how to register. Encourage your family, neighbors and friends to register and vote.
- * Take an active part in Elections - During campaigns, Chicago and Midwest Regional Joint Board members canvass neighborhoods, conduct phone banks and distribute materials to promote our issues and pro-labor candidates.
- * Attend Union meetings - Participate and learn what the union is doing to better your conditions at work.

HOW ARE DUES USED?

- Negotiation of contracts - The Union provides numerous resources so that you have the best representation while negotiating your contract.

- Handling of grievances and contract enforcement - Funds are spent on training of stewards to better know how to handle grievances. Other funds are spent in legal fees every time we take a case to arbitration.
- Organizing - We conduct organizing campaigns to help non-union workforce join our union, give them and all of us more power at the bargaining table, our communities and our world.
- Research - It helps us prepare for bargaining and to protect protect our interests during the life of the contract.
- Political Action - We work to protect and improve the rights of working people in our country.
- Educational Programs - We strive in providing the best educational opportunities to our union officers, stewards and members.
- Mobilization - Our members are public in their support of our union's goals in bargaining, organizing and legislative campaigns.
- Industrial Development - We work with employers to better preserve our member's jobs.
- International Solidarity - We proudly stand with workers from all over the world, so their labor will not be used to lower our living standards
